POLO PLAYER BADLY INJURED.

T. H. Dougherty, Jr., Has Concussion of Brain as Result of Fall.

PHILADELPHIA, May 8.—Thomas H. Dougherty, Jr., one of the leading Philadelphia polo players and star back on the Philadelphia Country Club team, was thrown with his pony during practice on the club's field Wednesday evening and badly injured. He was carried from the field unconscious and taken to the Germantown Hospital, where he was found to have concussion of the brain. During the night he was in a serious condition, lapsing into frequent periods of unconsciousness, but was reported improved yesterday.

The accident occurred while Dougherty and Alexander Brown, a Bryn Mawr player, were riding in pursuit of the ball. They were coming from opposite directions and before either could pull out their ponies collided. Dougherty and his pony went down, but when the mount scrambled to his feet the rider lay still. Whether in the fall Dougherty was kicked by his pony or was rolled on witnesses of the fall could not say.

Dougherty is a well known society and club man and is a graduate of Harvard University, class of 1906.

Kilbane Invades Lightweight Class.

CLEVELAND, May 8.—The intention of Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, to campaign in the lightweight division was evidenced yesterday when he signed articles to fight Johnny Griffith of Akron, Ohio, at Canton, Ohio, July 4. Griffith, lightweight champion of Ohio, has fought most of the leading lightweights of the country. He and Kilbane will weigh in at 133 pounds ringside.

Two Washington schools are certain to be represented in the scholastic track and field games to be held at Cornell University tomorrow. Cathedral will send three men, Carter, Brewer and Harris, while Western will have its colors worn by Maxam and Donaldson. Central High and Friends are entered, but whether or not they will send their men is questionable.

The boy most depended upon to accomplish a great deal is Brewer of Cathedral. He is undoubtedly one of the fastest scholastic runners in the country, and if he is in form will come near winning. He is to take part in the 100, 220 and 440 runs, and it will not be a big surprise to learn that he has finished first in the 100 and 220.

Immediately preceding the base ball game at M. A. C. tomorrow Cathedral that school and Western Maryland the Farmers' lacrosse team will take place tomorrow, the Colliery School being the one booked.

The Maryland Agricultural College nine is scheduled to play another contest in the race for the state championship tomorrow. Western Maryland will be the opponent of the Farmers.

M. A. C. now has the lead in the race for the state title, and if it can defeat the three teams which yet remain the championship will be won. One more game is scheduled with St. John's, besides which there are contests with Western Maryland and Washington College. It is not very likely that either Western Maryland or Washington College has as good a team as have the Farmers, but the uncertainties of base ball tend to make the position held by the last-mentioned insecure, to say the least. Superiority was shown over St. John's last Saturday, yet the Farmers will have to defeat the Annapolis team again before they can claim an absolute right to the title.

Catholic University will go to Annapolis to meet the Naval Academy nine tomorrow.

The game scheduled early in the year between the Navy and M. A. C. and which was postponed because of a snowstorm, has been scheduled for next Thursday. The contest will be played at 4 o'clock in Annapolis.

In a ball game yesterday between the Valve Division and the Pumping Station of the District water department, Ellis, a former Technical High and George Washington University athlete, fractured his knee in sliding home. It seems rather an anomaly of fate that Ellis, after playing foot ball for years, being a star half-back at Tech and on the strongest team George Washington ever had, with hardy, the slightest injury, should sustain a fracture in a practice base ball game.

The Navy lacrosse team swamped the University of Pennsylvania twelve yesterday by 8 to 0. As the score indicates, the Sailors showed decided superiority in every department of play.

Brightwood and St. Paul played a good game in the Navy and Sunday School League yesterday, the former winning by 2 to 1. Lynn pitched a splendid contest, allowing only four hits, and the home team were struck out by Tomlin and he gave only one base on balls. Fraser, who worked for the Ironpines, did not pitch poor ball either; only four hits were made off his delivery and he caused eleven men to go back to the bench by the strike-out process.

A five-inning contest between Shops and Southern in the Railroad Y. M. C. A. League went to Southern by 5 to 2. There was only light hitting by both teams, errors figuring largely in the scoring of runs.

It was rather a coincidence that four men in the game had perfect averages at bat. Platz and Hutchinson of Southern were up once each and got one hit each, and Peck of Shops had the same record. Brady of Southern was up twice and got two singles.

Eastern defeated Congress Heights in the Potomac League by 5 to 1. The winning club played an errorless game and out-hit its opponent just double. Kelly, pitching for Eastern, allowed Congress Heights only three hits. While he was little wild, giving four bases on balls, Kelly's work was in the main very good. Besides holding the opposition to a minimum of hits he struck out eight.

Dean, playing shortstop for Eastern, accepted five chances while Harris, at short for Congress Heights, also had a good day.

The Printers got only two hits off the delivery of Gray and Kidwell yesterday in the Central League and lost to the Spartans by 6 to 0. Sness and Roberts made the only safeties registered by the Typesetters. Stringer, on the mound for the losers, was very wild, giving eight bases on balls. Green led his team in hitting, the Spartan outfielder getting

BOY STRIKES OUT

TWENTY-SEVEN

WORCESTER, Mass., May 8.—Westboro High School in a sixteen-inning game defeated Marlboro High at Westboro yesterday for the Middlesex county leadership by a score of 1 to 0. The feature of the battle was Whitney's pitching for the winner. The high school twirler in the sixteen innings allowed the Marlboro batsmen only two hits, passed five and struck out twenty-seven. Colliery, who pitched for Marlboro, was found for six safe hits and struck out fifteen of the Westboro lads.

Two safeties out of three trips to the plate.

Downey was the star of the game between Treasury and Civil Service in the Treasury League. Not only did he pitch well enough to blank Civil Service, but he got two hits out of as many attempts. Downey allowed his opponents to drive the ball into safe territory only four times.

In a contest that was replete with rather poor plays, Post Office defeated Interior in the Departmental League, 10 to 9. Both teams held below the average and the work of their pitchers was not anything extraordinary. Pfeffer and Ferguson of Interior deserved a better fate, as they only allowed the Mailhandlers five hits. Seven bases on balls and seven errors contributed largely to the big score made by Post Office.

By harder hitting and better all-round work, the Chesapeake team defeated Trinity yesterday in the Marquette League. Twelve safeties were made by the winners, while they played errorless ball. Smith, Burrows, Rector and King led the winners at bat, two hits being the least gotten by either.

The Juniors won from the Seniors in the Class League at Georgetown yesterday. The score was 10 to 1. Beatty's pitching featured the contest.

Business and Western are scheduled to meet today in the high school series. If Business can win from the Red and White, it will have only one more contest to win to give it a clear title to the championship. The work of the Stenographers so far has been above the ordinary. They have had good pitching, and have played better ball than the teams which they have been opposed. Western also has been showing fair form, a 2-to-4 score against the central being the result of its last effort in the series. The game will be played on Georgetown Field.

It is reported that Oliphant, the star athlete of Perdue University, will enter the Naval Academy next fall. It is said that he has been promised an appointment and will take the entrance examinations this spring. There is hardly any doubt about university man being able to pass entrance exams to either of the service schools, and it seems assured that the Midshipman will add one of the greatest foot ball players in the middle west to their forces next fall.

Poor hitting and fielding lost Western High a game to Episcopal yesterday. Adams and Ewing pitched well for Western, allowing Episcopal but two hits. Nine errors behind them cost the Red and White the game, though.

Princeton and Yale each won its ball game yesterday. Yale defeated Lafayette in a splendid finish in the ninth by 2 to 1, while Princeton got away with the long end of a 7-to-4 score with Penn State.

GRIFFMEN POUND BENDER'S CURVES

Nationals Gain Victory Over
Champions in Most Exciting Game.

BY J. ED GRILLO.

Real gameness and determination in the face of a discouraging start made it possible for the Nationals to win the opening game of the series from the champion Athletics yesterday. A more brilliant contest than the one of yesterday has not been staged on the local ball field in many a day.

It was a hard-fought struggle, which was not decided until Baker sent a high bounding grounder to Morgan in the ninth, and the ball was subsequently thrown to Wally Smith's big mitt at first. Up to that instant the result was in doubt, notwithstanding that the locals had gone into this inning with a three-run lead, after overcoming an early lead the visitors had gained.

There have been few occasions in Chief Bender's career when his delivery was pounded as hard as yesterday. He came into the contest as a relief pitcher, succeeding Carl Brown, who had weakened in the third and left the bases full with none out for Bender to take up the task. Bender never appeared to be more effective, for he got out of this hole without allowing a run to score, though he was aided materially by the one-handed catch by Collins of Milan's hard line drive, which threatened to clean the bases. Once out of this predicament, Bender seemed to have easy sailing. He had a two-run lead and looked to be at his best.

Bender Is Pounded.

But in the very next inning he was given a severe drubbing, five of the Nationals hitting safely and four runs coming over the plate. In every inning thereafter Bender was hit hard, and in all thirteen safe drives were charged against him in the seven innings he performed. This hitting netted the Nationals six runs, which barely proved enough to win the game. Until the ninth the Nationals held a three-run lead, and while Boehling was apparently not in his best form, being in trouble in almost every inning, he was holding his own in the check. But in the ninth the Mackmen made a final effort to win the game, and came near doing it, the situation at the finish being two men on, two runs over the plate and Frank Baker, the game's greatest slugger, at the bat. Baker, however, was thrown out at first by Morgan and the game was over.

Over the first man up in this inning, was an easy out at first. Schang hit a bad bounding grounder at McBride and was safe. He was allowed to steal second and third, but Boehling struck out Bender and was apparently out of the hole. But Murphy came along with a three-base hit, scoring Schang, and trotted home on Oldring's third single. To make matters worse Collins was walked, and it was up to Baker, who, however, failed, sending a grounder to Morgan.

The visitors got in action in the opening round, when Oldring singled and Collins walked, offering scoring on Baker's single to right. Boehling struck out McBride and Daley popped up.

In the third inning Collins sacrificed and Baker's single.

Collins prevented disaster for his team in the last half of this inning when Brown walked McBride and Boehling, and McBride hit safely, filling the bases. Brown was taken out and Bender took up the task. Foster fouled out to McInnis, Milan hit a terrific liner toward right center. Collins jumped fully three feet in the air and pulled it down with his gloved hand, but failed to make the double play he tried for. Gandil was out at first, and no runs were scored. But Bender was hit hard in the fourth, which he opened by striking out Henry. Shanks singled, as did Morgan, and McBride brought them both home with a double to left. Moeller followed with a double, after Boehling had fanned, and Foster brought Moeller home with a single with the fourth run. Foster then died stealing.

A Disputed Decision.

In the fifth the Athletics scored again without making a hit. Boehling walked Collins with one out and he stole second. Baker also was walked and was forced by McInnis, while Collins scored. The claim was made that McInnis had been doubled up, but this was not allowed. Though the Nationals hit Bender hard in the fifth he was not scored on, but the runs which eventually won the game came in the sixth. Boehling hit safely with one out and Moeller followed suit. Foster again fouled out, but Milan and Wally Smith came through with singles which sent the two runs home. There was nothing further doing until the Athletics rallied in the ninth. The score:
